Every Member Matters

Most Americans can recall what they were doing on January 28, 1986. On that historic date, the space shuttle Challenger exploded just seventy-three seconds into flight. Seven families were robbed by death and an entire nation was racked with grief.

All of this loss was ultimately blamed on one inexpensive O-ring. Records revealed that the space shuttle was comprised of one million components. In this sea of mechanical makeup, it took just one part to destroy the whole. One million parts did their job, but one failed and disaster occurred.

Most people feel their role within the church is not only small and insignificant, but irrelevant as well. But just like that small and seemingly insignificant O-ring, one failed performance can produce catastrophic results.

1 Corinthians 12:22

In fact, some parts of the body that seem weakest and least important are actually the most necessary.

Are you doing your part?

I love you all,

Tim
