Succeeding at the Wrong Things

Bright and Davis, in their book "Beyond All Limits", tell the story of the struggle of a man who confessed to them, "I am not afraid of succeeding in life, I am afraid of succeeding at the wrong things in life."

While most people fear they might fail, the wise know to be suspicious of their own success. They realize that worldly success can actually be a distraction and will draw us away from what really matters. I challenge you this week to stop thinking about the importance in your life for the next 30 days, 30 months, or even 30 years and instead focus your daily efforts on the importance of the next 3000 years.

1 John 2:17

¹⁷ The world and its desires pass away, but whoever does the will of God lives forever.

I love you all,

Tim
