Pulling Together

A youth minister once was trying to make the kids of the congregation understand the concept of how working together was always better than working alone. He gave them the following demonstration.

He asked the children first to pick out the biggest, strongest person in the congregation. He then asked them who they thought was the strongest kid in the group. They picked the child they all knew from all of the things they had done together to be the strongest of their group.

The youth minister then asked the "volunteer" from the congregation to take one end of a rope, and the child to take the other. Soon after, a friendly "tug of war" ensued, which the volunteer won, of course.

So the next time he asked another child to join the first child on his/her side of the rope. The volunteer continued to win every match, until the last child joined and all of the children were tugging on their end of the rope.

The kids learned that day that if they all work together with one goal in mind, they could get so much more done. We as the body of Christ are also called to work together. And the fact is there is not one of us who can fight the "giants" of this world alone. But together, with Jesus leading us, we can accomplish anything for His glory.

1 Corinthians 1:10

"I appeal to you, brothers and sisters, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree with one another in what you say and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be perfectly united in mind and thought".

I love you all,

Tim
