Do You Need A God?

Theologian Karl Rahner cites Bertolt Brecht who tells this story in his STORIES OF MR. KEUNER: "Someone asked Mr. Keuner whether God existed. He said, 'I suggest that you consider whether your behavior would change depending on the answer to this question. If it would not change then we can forget the question. If it would change then I can help you at least to the point of saying that you have already decided: You need a God.'"

Would realizing that God exists change your behavior? Would it matter one way or the other? To those who don't want "new life," it does not matter whether God does or does not exist. To those of us who want "new life," the existence of God suddenly matters.

2 Corinthians 5:17, NLT

This means that anyone who belongs to Christ has become a new person. The old life is gone; a new life has begun!

I love you all,

Tim
