Coming To The Father Through The Son

Following the Civil War, a dejected confederate soldier was sitting outside the grounds of the White House. A young boy approached him and inquired why he was so sad. The soldier related how he had repeatedly tried to see President Lincoln to tell him how he was unjustly deprived of certain lands in the South following the war.

On each occasion as he attempted to enter the White House, the guards crossed their bayoneted guns in front of the door and turned him away. The boy motioned to the old soldier to follow him. When they approached the entrance, the guards came to attention, stepped back and opened the door for the boy.

He proceeded to the library where the President was resting and introduced the soldier to his father. The boy was Tad Lincoln. The soldier had gained an audience with the President through the President's son.

Just like the confederate soldier, we are wounded by sin and live in misery. No matter how hard we try, we are not able to gain access to God on our own merit. But through the merit of the Son, we are ushered into fellowship with the Father.

Jesus answered, "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me" John 14:6.

As the old hymn asks, "Do you know Him today, please don't turn Him away..."

I love you all,

Tim
