Letting Go Of Your Expectations

I remember the first time I watched John Travolta in the movie "Broken Arrow." I had a difficult time following the plot because I was accustomed to seeing him in comedies, such as "Look Who's Talking." When he pulled out a gun on his friend and forced him to eject from a jet plane over the desert, I finally came to the conclusion that he had to be a bad guy, something I was not expecting.

Our preconceived notions can sometimes prevent us from understanding God's purpose. We can miss what is "right before our eyes" and find ourselves continually dissatisfied, impatient, angry, or disgusted. When that happens, we need to rewind and start over again. Viewing the church through the eyes of a faith that believes God can cause all things, even the flaws of the church, helps us to realize what Romans 8 is talking about.

Romans 8:28

28 And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose.

I love you all,

Tim
