Afraid of the Light

Stephen Hawking and John Lennox (professors of math at Oxford) were preparing for a debate at Cambridge. A reporter from the Times asked Hawking for a comment on religion and he responded with, "Religion is a fairy story for people afraid of the dark."

Being fair, the reporter turned to Lennox and asked him for a comment on atheism and he commented, "Atheism is a fairy story for people afraid of the light."

In recent years, many atheists have become much more aggressive in their attacks against Christianity. It leads many Christ followers to ask questions such as, if they don't believe in the God of the Bible, why do they fight against Him so hard? I think Professor Lennox answered the question correctly, but we must really give credit where credit is due.

John 3:20-21

²⁰ Everyone who does evil hates the light, and will not come into the light for fear that their deeds will be exposed. ²¹ But whoever lives by the truth comes into the light, so that it may be seen plainly that what they have done has been done in the sight of God.

I love you all,

Tim
