Sin Will Find You Out

John McGraw was a member of the Baltimore Orioles in the 1890's. He and his team played a "do-anything-to-win" style of baseball. If they could cheat and not get caught, they would take any advantage they could get.

It didn't help that only one umpire was supposed to patrol this dirty, sometimes violent, play. Several times McGraw was successful at delaying a runner at third by holding onto his belt when he tried to run for home plate.

Then, in 1894, Pete Browning exposed McGraw's tactic. While at second base, Browning unbuckled his belt. When he got to third, McGraw, as one could predict, secretly held onto Pete's belt. When Browning took off for home, McGraw was left holding an empty belt while Browning crossed home plate holding his pants up, to the amusement of the crowd. Once caught, McGraw never attempted the stunt again.

Sin deceives us when we think we will never get caught. Our confidence grows when we get away with something over and over again, so we continue to repeat it. But the Bible warns us that when we sin "against the LORD" we can "be sure that our sin will find us out" (Numbers 32:23).

I love you all,

Tim
