Zoom Out

The next time life seems confusing and you feel that you've lost your bearings, zoom out. That's what I did on Google Maps the other day and it worked like a charm. There I was, staring at a location on the map, and I became confused. So I clicked on "zoom out" and the bigger perspective made all the difference. Understanding where you are in relationship to other key landmarks will do that for you.

So, the next time you find yourself a bit disoriented in your circumstances, step back and take in a broader view. Resist the temptation to focus on where you're stuck. Instead, think of how God has proven Himself faithful to you.

Realize that in Christ you have been granted an even greater capacity to zoom out. In light of God's promises, you have been given the ability to zoom out until eternity itself comes into view.

From this vantage point your earthly concerns are finally placed in their proper perspective. When eternity is your point of reference, your earthly problems become pretty small. From here it becomes easy to see that God has provided you with more for which to be thankful than to regret, more you don't know about than you do, and more to come than has ever been.

Romans 8:18

I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed to us.

I love you all,

Tim
