We Are Obsessed With Our Phones

Network World reports:

We're obsessed with our phones, a new study has found. The heaviest smartphone users click, tap or swipe on their phone 5,427 times a day, according to researcher Dscout. That's the top 10 percent of phone users, so one would expect it to be excessive. However, the rest of us still touch the addictive things 2,617 times a day on average. No small number.

The research firm, which specializes in consumer reactions to products, recruited 94 Android device users and installed special software on their smartphones. The tool tracked each user's "interaction" over five days, all day, the company says in a blog post on its website.

"And by every interaction, we mean every tap, type, swipe and click. We're calling them touches," Dscout explains. Averaging out the numbers, the aforementioned figures mean the heaviest users are touching their devices a couple of million times in one year, Dscout says.

... Probably the most interesting thing in all this was that the people surveyed completely underestimated their phone touching. While they were initially shocked by the numbers, 41 percent said, "It probably won't change the way I use my phone."

Let me ask you this, how many taps, types, swipes and clicks take place between you and God in a day? If the number of times you were in contact with God on a daily basis could be tracked, would you be shocked by the result? Would it be because of how often, or, how infrequently you reached out to Him?

"You have persevered and have endured hardships for my name, and have not grown weary. Yet I hold this against you: You have forsaken the love you had at first. Consider how far you have fallen! Repent and do the things you did at first. If you do not repent, I will come to you and remove your lampstand from its place" Revelation 2:3-5.

Make your relationship with God the most important relationship you have, because it is the most important relationship you will ever have. Spend time with Him daily. He loves you so much that He sent His Son to this earth to die for your sins.

I love you all,

Tim
