Never Try to Catch the Catcher

In the world of trapeze performance, there are "flyers" and there are "catchers." Imagine yourself a trapeze flyer sailing through the air, flipping as you go. Then at the end of your rotation, as you hang in mid-air, you see the catcher.

Your natural impulse is to reach out and grab for him. That's certainly what I would do. I'd grab anything I could -- his hands, his arms, his shirt, or his hair. It wouldn't matter to me because I would be grabbing a hold of something, anything, and hanging on to it for dear life.

But the flyer is trained to resist this impulse. He understands that it is preemptive for him to attempt to catch the catcher. Any such attempt would actually prevent the catcher from performing his task. Rodleigh of The Flying Rodleighs once said, "The flyer is the one who lets go and the catcher is the one who catches. The flyer must never try to catch the catcher!"

When it comes to salvation we have to ask ourselves this question...Will you let the One and Only Catcher catch you?

I love you all,

Tim
