Wishing and Hoping

Have you ever really wished something would happen in your life that you had to wait on? When I was a child, it seemed like my birthday or Christmas morning would never get here, and the older I get it seems like the faster they come.

Most of our waiting is filled with wishes: I wish that I would have a job. I wish that the weather would be better. I wish that the pain would go away. We are full of wishes, but when results from our wishes do not happen quickly it is easy to find our wishes becoming tangled with our fears. That is often why we have such a hard time waiting, because as we wait our fears overcome us in the waiting.

Henri J. M. Nouwen once said, "I have found it very important in my own life to let go of my wishes based in fear and start hoping. It was only when I was willing to let go of wishes that something really new, something beyond my own expectations could happen to me."

Philippians 4:6

Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God.

Are the desires of your life based on wishing, or are they grounded in hope? This world offers many things to wish for, but there is only One who can provide the true and lasting hope to sustain us.

I love you all,

Tim
