Inconvenience Yourself Day

I lost a very good friend from my hometown this past week. One of the many things my friend, Woody, was known for at church was giving a Tootsie Roll to all the kids (and adults if they asked) each Sunday. So, as I was preparing to go to his memorial service, I looked up some information on the Tootsie Roll. Did you know there is a National Tootsie Roll Day every year on the fourth Wednesday of February?

While I was looking up that information, I looked to see what else was recognized on that same day. I found that it is also Dog Biscuit Appreciation Day and International Banana Bread Day. But the one that really caught my attention was National Inconvenience Yourself Day. So of course, I then had to find out what that was all about. Here is what I found...

Inconvenience Yourself Day was established by Julie Thompson, a disillusioned citizen who grew weary of watching mankind walk all over itself. She observed that many people forget to think about how their actions affect other people. She explains the movement on her website, now celebrated on the fourth Wednesday of February, saying, "Inconvenience Yourself is a way of living. It includes not only how you behave, but also recognizing and acknowledging the actions of others.... In the fast-paced world in which we live, with schedules overflowing with commitments, people go about their lives without recognizing that what they do impacts other people. Our pledge is to step out of ourselves and put the needs and concerns of others above our own—to a point. Thompson tempers the intent of the pledge saying, "It is not intended to suggest that people become completely self-sacrificing."

Everyone can appreciate the efforts of Ms. Thompson to challenge us to think outside of ourselves, but as followers of Jesus, we also know her expectations are way too low. While she calls us to a single day of tempered inconvenience, Jesus calls us to take up our cross and follow Him every day. Jesus didn't place any convenient qualifiers limiting our degree of self-sacrifice because He gave it all, and calls us to do the same. So being a follower of Jesus means that every day is Inconvenience Yourself Day.

Luke 9:23

And he said to all, "If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me.

I love you all,
Tim
