Have you ever seen the movie "The Godfather?" There's a scene in the beginning where the godfather is talking to one of his sons.

"Sonny, do you spend time with your family?"

"Yes, Father."

"Good. A man who doesn't spend time with his family isn't a real man."

The older I get, the more I realize how true this is.

I read about a little girl who drew a pretty picture. She went into her dad's office, crawled on his lap and said, "Daddy, come and see my picture."

The dad said, "Not now, honey. Daddy's busy."

About 10 minutes later, she came back again, crawled on his lap and said, "Daddy, will you come see my picture now?"

The dad got frustrated and said, "Can't you see I'm busy? Don't bother me right now. I'll come and look at your picture later when I'm ready."

A couple of hours later, the dad came out of his office and said to his daughter, "May I see the picture now?"

The little girl said, "Sure."

It was a picture of her, her brother, her mom and the family dog, standing on the lawn, with big smiles, on a sunny day.

But the dad noticed that he wasn't in the picture. "That's a nice picture, sweetheart. How come I'm not in the picture?"

The little girl said, "Because you're working in your office, Daddy."

The dad was crushed. It dawned on him that as one of the most loving and caring people in his daughter's life, he wasn't even in the picture!

When it comes to being a good dad, how can we make sure that we're in the picture? How can we be sure that we're as successful inside the home as we are on the outside?
