GOD PLANS FOR MOTHERS

"He careth for you."—1 Peter 5:7b

Baby bees in the meadow, baby birds in the maple tree, and baby rabbits in the woods—that is the way it is in springtime.

"Think of all the baby things," said Mother; "how tiny and helpless they are—yet their mothers know how to care for them."

"How do they know?" I wondered.

"God tells them," said Mother. "He tells Mother Bumblebee how to make bee bread for her babies. He tells Mother Robin what baby robins need. He tells Mother Rabbit how to cover her babies with a soft warm blanket until their fur has time to grow."

"And He tells my mother what to do for me," I said softly, as I snuggled closer to her.

"Yes," said Mother, "when we think how God helps all the little mothers care for their babies, it reminds us of his loving care for us."

Some in a leafy cradle, some in a furry nest,
Dear little woodland babies all cuddle down to rest;
Each with a loving mother who cares for it tenderly,
Just as my own dear mother so lovingly cares for me.
