THE BIBLE SAYS...

APOSTLE PAUL SAID..."It is for freedom that Christ has set us free" (Galatians 5:1). We often hear the statement, "Freedom is not free!" It is a statement meant to impress upon us the fact that the freedoms associated with living in this country did not come without a great cost. These freedoms cost the dedication, commitment, and many lives of people who went before us to secure and insure them. The freedoms we enjoy in this land should never be taken for granted. Far more profound and important is the precious freedom that God offers us from the guilt of our sins. Freedom is more precious to those who have been under oppression or in bondage. We hear the stories of being under the oppressive rule of Great Britain, but we did not experience it firsthand. We read the stories in the Bible of the Israelites being enslaved by their enemies, but there is no way to understand the brutality and cruelty of slavery without experiencing it personally.

Unlike these examples of oppression, we have all experienced the shackles of sin. The tremendous cost of freedom from sin was the very life of Jesus. The price is so high because the perfect, guiltless Son of God died for all sins of all people for all times. The liberating power of this act of grace is offered to all. Many take it for granted or do not accept it at all. The choice to remain under the dominion of sin leads to the consequence of eternal punishment. Jesus came to this earth with the key to the shackles. He gives us the opportunity to be set free from the dominion, guilt, and ultimate consequence of our sin. May we never take lightly this freedom God offers, bought and paid for by the blood of Jesus. Freedom is not free!
