THE BIBLE SAYS

The Canaanite woman said, "Have mercy on me, O Lord, Son of David; my daughter is severely oppressed by a demon" (Matthew 15:22). Seventeen verses in the New Testament describe Jesus as the "son of David." Of course, the question arises, how could Jesus be the son of David if David lived approximately 1,000 years before Jesus? The answer is that Christ (the Messiah) was the fulfillment of the prophecy of the seed of David found in 2 Samuel 7. Jesus is the promised Messiah, which means He had to be of the lineage of David. So, the title "Son of David" is more than a statement of physical genealogy. It is a Messianic title. When people refer to Jesus as the Son of David, they mean that He was the long-awaited Savior, the fulfillment of the Old Testament prophecies.

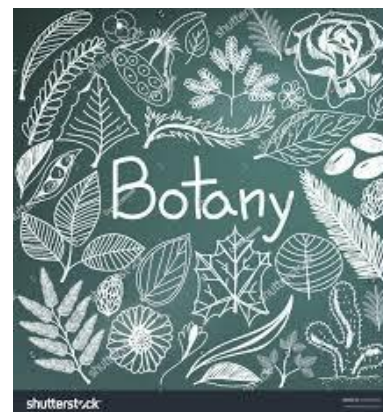

Jesus was addressed as "Lord, son of David" several times by people who, by faith, were seeking mercy or healing, as did the Canaanite woman. The Pharisees understood exactly what the people meant when they called Jesus "Son of David." But, unlike those who cried out in faith, they were so blinded by their own pride that they could not see what the blind beggars, in Matthew 20, could see—that here was the Messiah they had supposedly been waiting for all their lives. They hated Jesus because He would not give them the honor they thought they deserved. Jesus further confounded the scribes and Pharisees by asking them to explain the meaning of this title when David himself referred to Him as "my Lord" (Mark 12:36). The teachers of the Law could not or would not because they would never admit to the fact that Jesus was greater than King David. Jesus was the creator of David and a descendant of David. Only the Son of God, who came to this world as a man, could say that (Revelation 22:16).
