THE BIBLE SAYS

David said, "O Lord, I will sing praises to your name" (Psalm 18:49). The concept of the power inherent in God's name is a profound theme woven throughout the Scriptures, reflecting the divine nature, authority, and presence of God. In the Bible, names are not merely labels but are imbued with significance, often revealing the character and essence of the individual. This is especially true for the name of God, which holds immense power and reverence. In the Old Testament, the name of God is revealed in various forms, each reflecting various aspects of His character and covenant relationship with His people. One of the most significant revelations of God's name is found in Exodus 3:14, where God declares to Moses, "I AM WHO I AM."

Throughout the Old Testament, various compound names of God reveal His attributes and actions. For example, Jehovah-Jireh means "The LORD Will Provide." The name Jehovah-Rapha means "The LORD Who Heals." These names not only describe God's character but also demonstrate His active involvement in the lives of His people. The power of God's name is also evident in the context of worship and reverence. The Third Commandment, "You shall not take the name of the LORD your God in vain" (Exodus 20:7), underscores the sanctity and respect due to God's name.

The power of God's name also carries eternal significance. Revelation 22:4 speaks of the redeemed, stating, "They will see His face, and His name will be on their foreheads." This imagery signifies the intimate and eternal relationship between God and His people, marked by His name. The power of God's name is a testament to His divine nature, authority, and presence. It is a source of protection, salvation, and transformation for those who call upon it in faith and reverence. The name of God, as revealed in both the Old and New Testaments, remains a central and powerful element of the Christian faith.

News and Notes

The youth would like to let you know they are available to help with any needs you may have around your house or just to visit. Please reach out to our youth members: Avree, Maddy, Melody, Haygen and Travis Jr. Their goal is to help and visit with everyone in our church family, especially our older members.

Dear Christian Friends, Although we've been gone from Tulia for many years, we have always had a very special place in our hearts for our church family there. You all are dear to me. Thank you so much for allowing us to visit with friends and family in your fellowship room after Ed's graveside service. The refreshments were wonderful! Your kindness will always be remembered. Love, Donna and family

Activities

Today, Nov 30, we will have singing at 6, but no supper. We will have potluck and early service next Sun, Dec. 7. Save the date for our Christmas party, Dec 14. More details to come. If you can decorate a table for the party, please add your name to the list on the activity table.

The Omicron Study Club is again sponsoring Christmas angels. The angels are on the bulletin board across from the office. Please read the requested items for your chosen angel. Pick up an angel and add your name to the sign-up sheet. You are welcome to pick up more than one. A donation is also welcome.
