His word is in my heart like a fire, a fire shut up in my bones. I am weary of holding it in; indeed, I cannot.
Jeremiah 20:9

THE BIBLE SAYS

Apostle Peter said, "He (God) did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah, a preacher of righteousness, with seven others" (2 Peter 2:5). Noah's world is described as being corrupt in the sight of God, and the earth was filled with violence. In His grace, God commissioned Noah to build an ark to preserve himself and his family from the upcoming judgment by water. The long time (around 100 years) it took for Noah and his family to build the ark afforded him the opportunity to share with those around him the reason for the ark's construction. Hebrews 11:7 says, "By faith Noah, being warned by God about things not yet seen, in reverence prepared an ark for the salvation of his household, by which he condemned the world, and became an heir of the righteousness which is according to faith." The ungodly of Noah's day had a chance to repent and be saved. Unfortunately, they rebelled against the truth, refused the ark, and drowned in the flood.

In addition to Noah's proclamations to the unbelieving world was his "wordless preaching." In the very construction of the ark, Noah bore witness to righteousness. Every hammer blow, every pounding of a nail was a call to repentance and a declaration that judgment was coming. In Luke 17:26-27, Jesus called out the fact that Noah's contemporaries ignored the message that would have saved them, while warning us of making the same mistake: "Just as it was in the days of Noah, so also will it be in the days of the Son of Man. People were eating, drinking, marrying and being given in marriage up to the day Noah entered the ark. Then the flood came and destroyed them all." The point of Peter referencing Noah is that, if God did not spare the ancient world, who rejected Noah's warnings, how much less can He be expected to spare those who dismiss His calls to repentance today?
